

Our world is changing

Food, water, energy
demand

Resources

Ecosystems

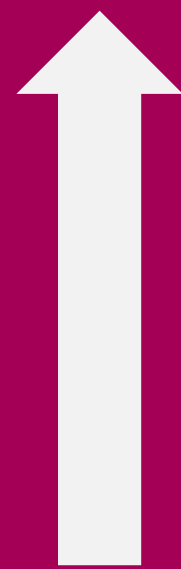

GHGs

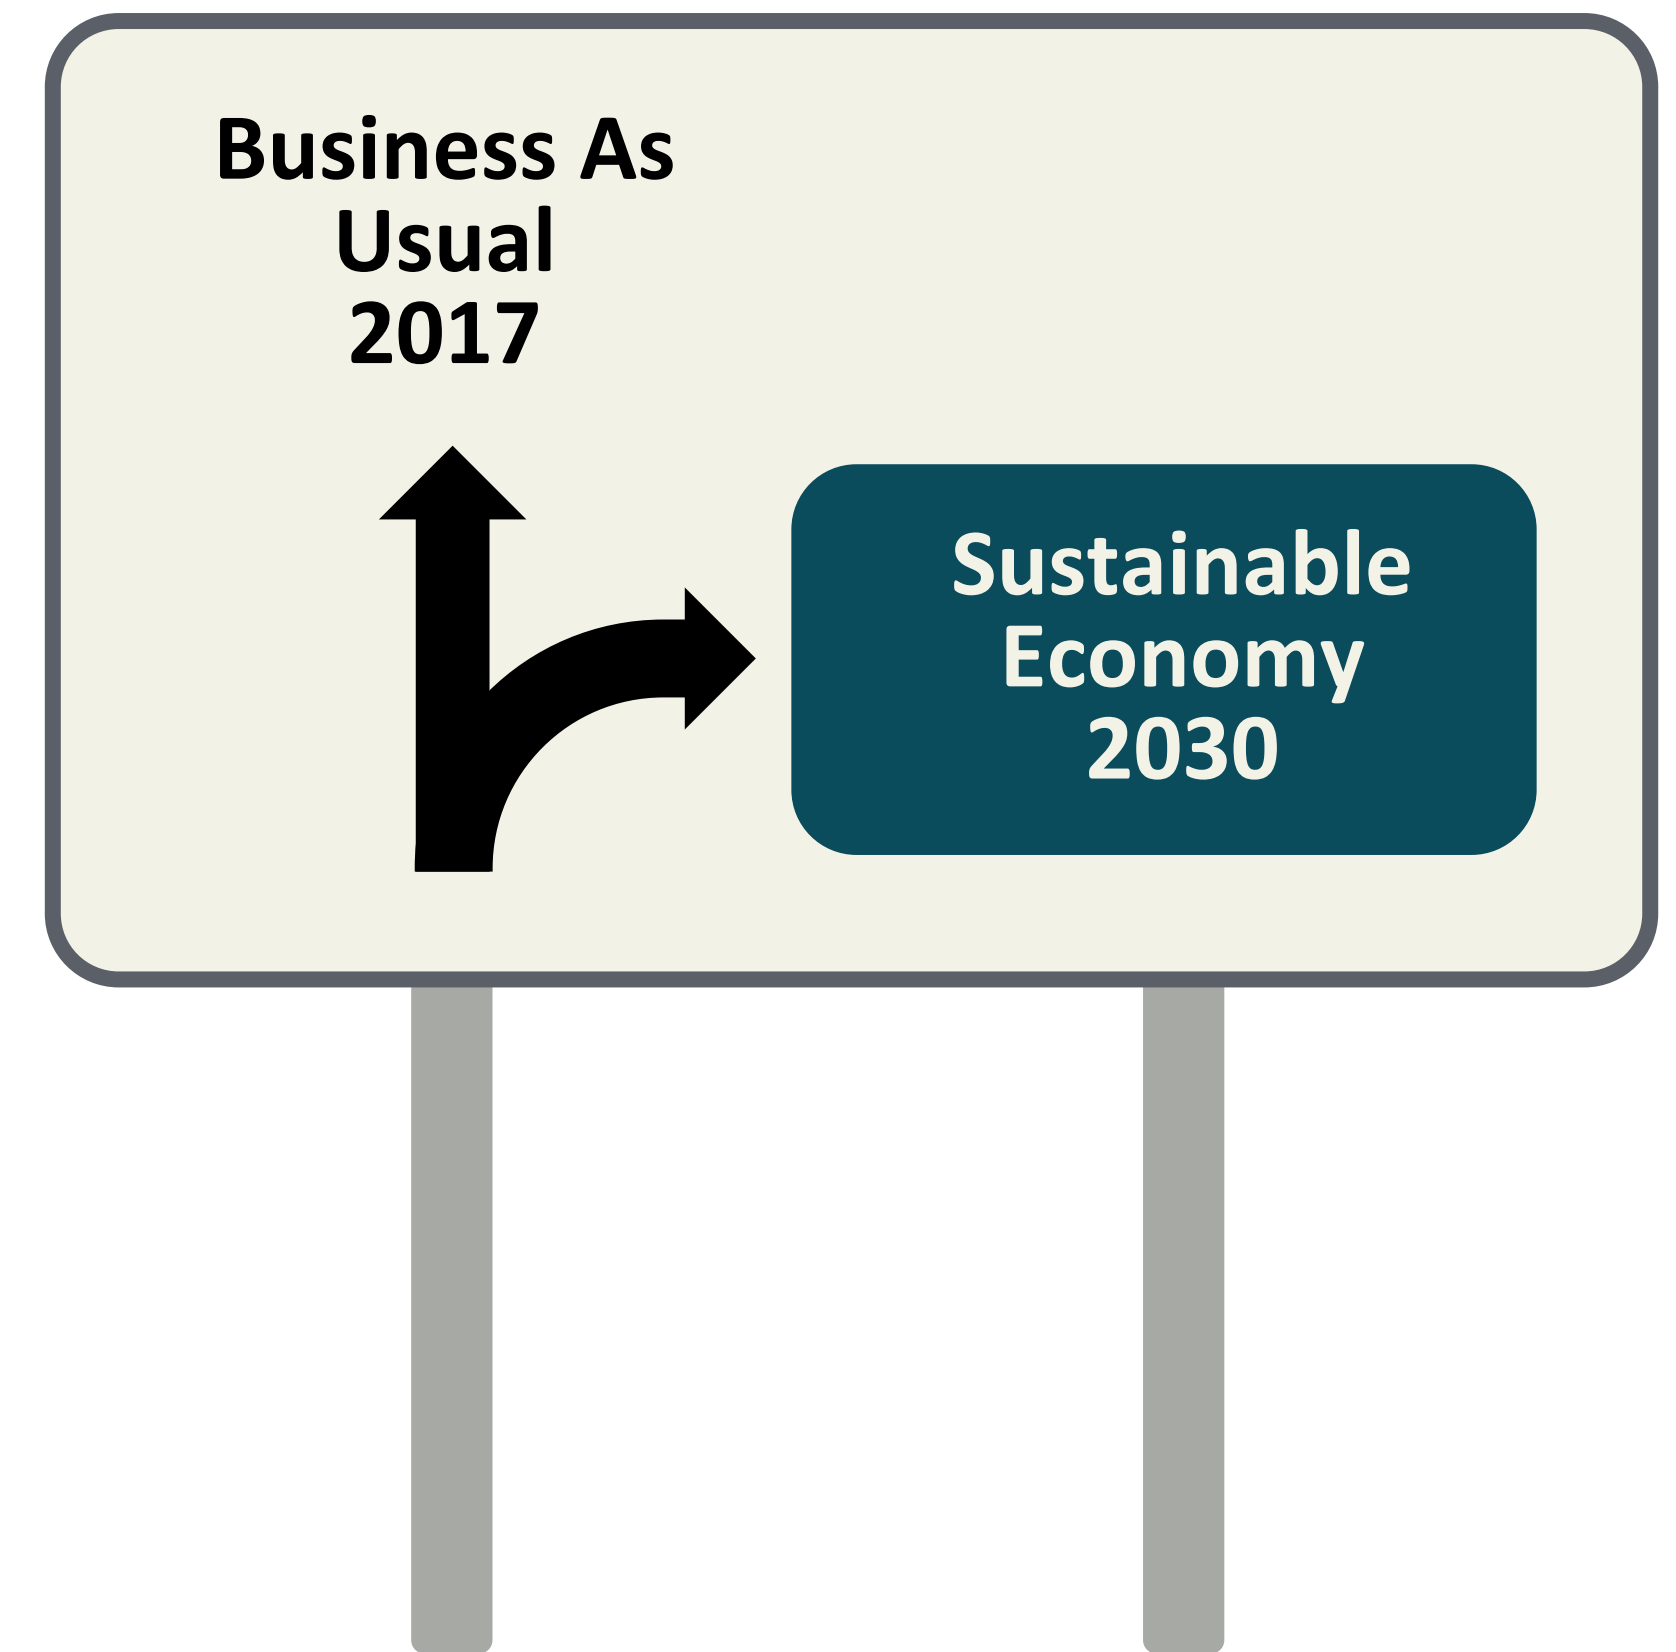

Inequality

Insecurity

We can choose which road to take

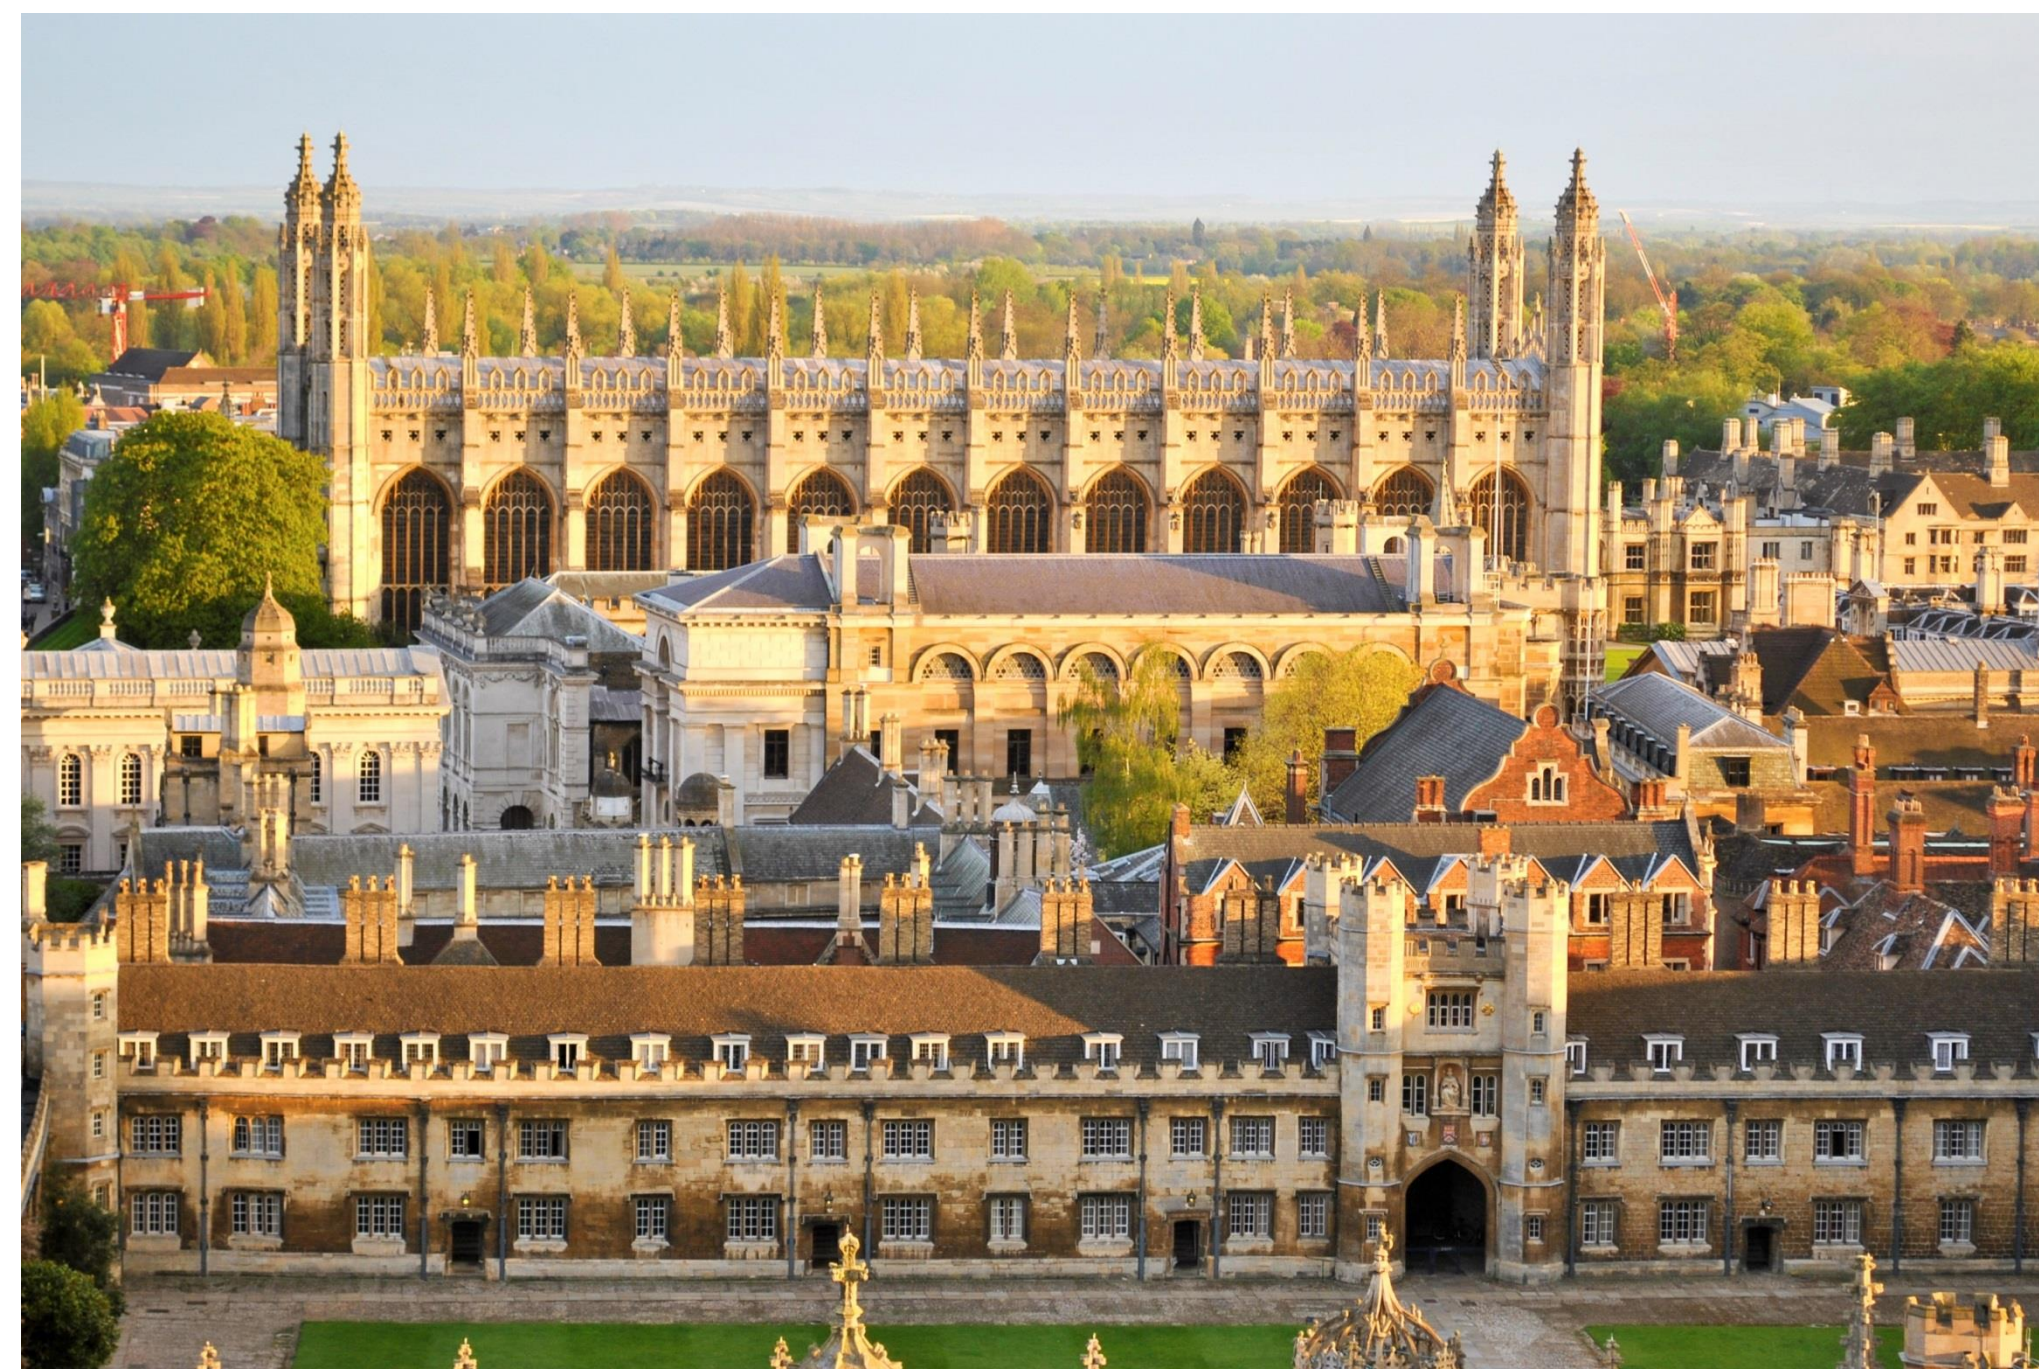

The University of Cambridge Institute for Sustainability Leadership

Building leadership capacity to tackle critical global challenges

- Executive Courses and Graduate Education
- Customised Programmes and Engagement
- Business and Policy Leadership Groups
- Research and Thought Leadership

CISL and DEWA

“To further develop and retain our world-class workforce, we organised a special programme for our top management, senior managers, and sustainability specialists, in collaboration with the Cambridge Institute for Sustainability Leadership (CISL). The programme focused on best international practices in sustainability and organisational excellence.”

DEWA 2015 Sustainability Report

CASE STUDY: CAMBRIDGE SUSTAINABILITY LEADERSHIP PROGRAMME

Sustainability Masterclass: building capacity for a sustainable economy

The role of sustainability leaders in the age of the Global Goals

1. Setting a leading sustainability plan

2. Sustainability and value creation in the circular economy

3. Collaboration and partnerships

1. Setting a leading sustainability plan

2. Sustainability and value creation in the circular economy

3. Collaboration and partnerships

Sustainable organisations: fostering accountability, engagement and innovation

4. Progress, transparency, materiality, reporting

5. Innovating for sustainability

6. Workplace culture and engagement

4. Progress, transparency, materiality, reporting

5. Innovating for sustainability

6. Workplace culture and engagement

